CEO CORNER

As we begin a new fiscal year, let me take a moment to reflect on all that we have accomplished this past year which it is nothing short of amazing. I recognize that it would not be possible without you, our members. With the transformation of our Crisis Care Center, planning to open a regional behavioral and physical health campus and our continued emphasis on putting children first; DWIHN continues to put our members first in all that it does. I am also humbled and pleased at the willingness of the Provider network to find innovative ways of serving its members with more boots on the ground by embedding themselves into various neighborhoods and communities with the expansion of additional behavioral and physical health mobile units.

Thank you members for your advocacy and feedback whether its marching on the State Capitol steps, participating in focus groups or from the Constituent's Voice, EVOLVE, Empower Action and Recipient Rights Advisory Committees in which you so willingly serve on. Your voice is being heard.

So, as another year comes to a close, on behalf of the DWIHN Board of Directors, Executive Leadership and staff, thank you for allowing us to serve you.

HUMAN AND SEX TRAFFICKING - MODERN DAY SLAVERY BY JOANNA LOFTON

By definition human trafficking and sex trafficking are forms of modern-day slavery, in which human beings are controlled against their will and exploited for profit. Perpetrators use force, fraud, or coercion to manipulate and establish control over individuals. Every day men, women and children all over the United States, including right here in Michigan are forced into prostitution, domestic labor and other types of labor services. It's the second largest crime in the world following close behind drugs, but astonishingly ahead of guns. In 2021, The National Human Trafficking Hotline received almost 1,000 contacts from Michigan alone. They identified more than 800 victims, 153 traffickers and 62 trafficking businesses.

Although human and sex traffickers can and do take advantage of anyone, certain populations are more vulnerable and are targeted more often. These populations include:

- Individuals with Disabilities
- Homeless and run-aways
- Individuals in foster care

Depending on the circumstances anyone can be at risk, but individuals with intellectual, cognitive, emotional and or mental health disabilities are especially at risk. People with disabilities also provide an added incentive for many traffickers to target them, because of their Social Security and government benefits. Once under the control of their trafficker, they then become their "representative payee" stealing the victim's benefits. People with disabilities are also more vulnerable because:

- Some may have difficulty with communication and/or speech. This may affect their ability to get help and report the abuse they are suffering
- They may live in a sheltered and isolated environment and therefore crave friendships and relationships, which the traffickers claim to provide

- People with disabilities may be desensitized to touch due to isolation, a lack of informed sex education, or medical procedures related to their disability. They may be unaware of their right to object or reject unwanted touching.
- A lack of cognitive understanding makes them an ideal target.

If you suspect something is wrong and someone is being trafficked, ask yourself these questions:

- Are there bruises or other signs of physical abuse?
- Are there signs of psychological abuse?
- Is the person submissive or fearful?
- Is the person being controlled?
- Is the person being deprived of food, water, sleep, medical care, or other life necessities?

How to get help

If you are a victim of human trafficking or have identified someone you think may need help, contact the National Human Trafficking Hotline (NHTH) call 1-888-373-7888 or text HELP or INFO to BeFree (233733).

I'M AN INDEPENDENT WOMAN! BY ARDIENNE MCCAIN-THOMAS

ARDIENNE
MCCAIN-THOMAS

Hello. My name is Adrienne McCain-Thomas. I'm an African American woman, born in Detroit, Michigan, in the late 70's. I was raised on the Eastside of town. I'm a wife of 4 years, and a mother of 3 children. I have a stepson, and a dog, and am a first-time grandmother with a 2-year-old granddaughter. I have been working in the mental health field in Wayne County since 2009. In 2010, I became a CPSP (Certified Parent Support Partner) with Family Alliance for Change. Afterwards, I began working for Hegira Health Inc., where I have been since 2017. One thing that my position requires is that we provide services to parents and caregivers of children who have received or are receiving mental health services. We strive to share our lived experiences of going along our life's path with the people we serve. I also help parents hold on to hope, knowing that there is light at the end of every dark tunnel. I lend a listening ear and support them in their decision-making process. I also help empower them so they may continue to move forward.

With the love of my family, I have partnered with my oldest daughter in a business for over 2 years called Melanoid Chic LLC. I'm also a first-time author. On July 16, 2022, I published "When Your Cup Is Empty," which is a workable journal about taking time to take care of yourself. I am a true believer that self-care and dealing with past trauma are necessary needs for our daily lives. This is important for both women and men. A person needs to understand that they are not alone. I believe the devil uses tricks to steer us wrong. Sometimes, we put up roadblocks that interfere with our needs. Nevertheless, I believe, one must have enough faith and believe that God can redirect and rebuild us. I hope to encourage and uplift others who are struggling mentally, physically, emotionally, spiritually, and financially, remembering that there is always light at the end of the tunnel. I believe whatever you lose in life you will gain back if it's meant to be. If you lose something forever, just know that something may come your way that will be even better.

ECHO SURVEY TELLS DWIHN HOW WE ARE DOING BY: MARGARET KEYES-HOWARD, M.A., MEMBER EXPERIENCE COORDINATOR

In the Summer 2022 edition of the Persons Point of View (PPOV) Newsletter, we discussed what Member Experience means and shared a snapshot of the Adult ECHO Survey results over 2017, 2020, and 2021. The chart below shows outcomes of the Children’s ECHO Survey for 2020 and 2021. The information provides a two-year comparison of results, showing the overall global rating of treatment and care from the point of view of the parent or legal guardian of minor children who receive services from DWIHN. The treatment of care category is listed in the first (green) column. The last column in black and red is the status column, which indicates the percentage of improvements or areas that still need improvement.

CHILDREN’S ECHO SURVEY /Snapshot View

CATEGORY	2021 RESULTS	2020 RESULTS	STATUS
Overall Treatment	54	49	Up 5%, Still Needs Improvement
Seen within 15 minutes	63	55	Up 8%, Still Needs Improvement
Given Treatment Options	76	75	Up 1%
Told about Side Effects of Medications	83	79	Up 4%
Given Information on Managing Condition	79	78	Up 1%
Given Information on Rights	92	95	Down 3% - above 90%
Felt like Treatment could be refused	85	88	Down 3% - still at 85%
Confident of Child’s Privacy	95	93	Up 2%, Good Job!
Cultural Needs Met	74	82	Down 8% at 74%, but not good enough
Treatment Helped Child	51	49	Up 2%, Needs Improvement
Informed About Treatment After benefits depleted	53	58	Down 5%, Needs Improvement
Goals for Child’s Treatment discussed	94	93	Up 1%, Looks really good

The chart accounts for a total of 24% improvement in areas for the global treatment of care categories. There were 1,415 participants in the 2021 Children’s ECHO. 961 persons fully completed the entire survey. Of that group, 89% identified themselves as parents of children receiving services. The full 2021 Adult ECHO Survey report and the 2021 Children’s ECHO Survey report are available on the DWIHN website, under survey results, at www.dwihn.org

UPDATE....the 2022 ECHO Surveys are underway. You may be randomly selected to participate and lend your voice, while sharing your experience as a member of the DWIHN system of care!

PEER DELIVERED SUPPORTS: PARENT SUPPORT PARTNER SERVICES SUBMITTED BY DEBORA MARTINEZ AND DANYELLE ORR-MCNEIL

What is the Parent Support Partner service?

The Parent Support Partner (PSP) service is an intervention that supports families whose children receive services through a community mental health service provider. The purpose is to increase family involvement, voice and engagement within the mental health treatment process, and to equip parents with the skills necessary to address the challenges of raising youth with special needs, thus improving outcomes for those with serious emotional disturbance and/or intellectual/developmental disabilities, including autism.

What is a Parent Support Partner?

The PSP service is provided by parents or primary caregivers with first-hand experience navigating agencies that serve children and raising children with mental health or developmental challenges. PSPs enhance the therapeutic process by increasing engagement, and expanding and increasing skills, knowledge, and abilities, so they can better partner with service providers.

Some supports offered, but are not limited to:

- Provide peer-delivered support to parents/primary caregivers of children and youth with SED/IDD, including autism, in the public mental health system
- Helps parents build confidence to use their voice as they navigate child-serving systems
- Build and nurture relationships with the family and others working with the family
- Team with others providing services and supports
- Encourage the family to ask questions so they can make informed decisions
- Provide support and encouragement for parents/family members to speak for themselves
- Empower parents to prepare for meetings regarding their child
- Provide hope through strategic sharing of lived experience

NAVY BEAN SOUP

This is a great fall recipe that will make you feel warm and cozy inside

NAVY BEAN SOUP

INGREDIENTS

16 ounces navy beans

1-pound smoked turkey meat, rinsed (I prefer legs)

2 tablespoons olive oil

1 medium onion, finely diced

2 celery ribs, diced (a good substitute is dried celery flake and celery salt)

3-4 garlic cloves, minced

1 can chili tomatoes

1 teaspoon dried oregano

1 ¼ teaspoon smoked paprika

A couple of sprinkles of salt-free onion and herb seasoning

¼ teaspoon black pepper

4 cups chicken broth or bouillon

4 cups water

1 bay leaf

1 bunch of baby spinach

Salt, to taste

Preparation

Sort and soak dried beans for 1 hour; then drain and rinse beans

Rinsing the smoked turkey meat with cold water and pat dry.

Rinse and open the can of tomatoes

Dice the onions, and celery and set aside. (they are all going into the pot at the same time so keep them in the same bowl.)

Mince the garlic.

Measure out oregano, smoked paprika and black pepper.

Cooking

Add veggies and oil to a pan and sauté veggies until you can smell them

Add smoked turkey, spices and 4 cups of water to a large pot and bring to a rolling boil and boil on medium for 1 hour

After 60 minutes remove turkey meat to a board or plate, chop it up, and add it back to the pot

Then add spinach and cover to simmer for about 5 minutes

If you want to make this more hearty, serve over brown rice.

Contributions From Turning Place Clubhouse

I've Come A Long Way! By Elizabeth Sturgill

I've come long way over the last year. I am finally living on my own. I'm learning how to pay for my internet service and my rent. I've obtained things for my apartment. I have my own responsibilities, remembering to do things on my own. I'm living how I want to live, without someone else telling me what to do.

I am a member of Turning Point Clubhouse. I do drawings for the Turning Point Clubhouse Newsletter. I recently drew Betty Boop on my T-shirt that was personalized for the Walk-a-Mile In My Shoes event. I love to sing, dance, cook and draw. I am a dedicated person at the clubhouse, who can do just about anything they ask me to do. My goal is to continue to do my best at the clubhouse when I am needed.

I would like to Acknowledge Ambassadors By DeLora Williams

Ambassadors educate people served with Mental Illness (MI), Substance Use Disorders (SUD), and Intellectual/Developmental Disabilities (IDD), and the community about the supports, services, and the rights of individuals who receive services.

Our department started the Ambassador presentation for the AFC homes project in June 2022 to educate members about DWIHN services, support, and their rights.

I would like to thank some essential people for assisting me with the project: Renee Brown, Tamaria White, and Kevin Scott. I really appreciate your assistance.

Renee Brown, I would like to give you a special thanks for helping me weekly with the Ambassador presentations. You have truly been a jewel during this whole process of completing over 80+ AFC homes. Every day we met for each presentation, you were always encouraging, happy, and kept a positive attitude. You are definitely a shining star in the eyes of DWIHN!

Rare People

By Krystal Walker

There is a rare breed of people that go all in. They keep their word, they give it all, they go the extra mile for those they care for. These individuals hardly ever receive the same passion and effort in return, yet never change and always give their all. Hoping that one day maybe, just maybe they('ll) find someone as rare as them to love them as fiercely and with as much devotion. To the givers, forgivers, and selfless lovers out there... Keep being beautiful, don't let this cold world change you, and take advantage of every little moment you are given.

Did You Know?

Effective September 2021, the state began offering another local dispute resolution option for individuals receiving Behavioral Health Services. It is called Mediation. This is a way to provide another avenue for members as well as our provider network to come to a resolution in areas where there may be a disagreement or conflict.

Mediation does not take the place of DWIHN's ability to address a member's Appeal, Grievance or Recipient Rights complaint. It is important to note that only the member or their legal guardian can request mediation services. If you are interested in learning more contact:
